

15 Ways to Seek God's Will in Decision Making

By Melkisedeck Leon Shine · July 5, 2023

Christian Reflections to Build your Faith, By Melkisedeck Leon Shine

15 Ways to Seek God's Will in Decision Making ?

Making decisions can sometimes be a daunting task, especially when facing important life choices. As Christians, we have the wonderful blessing of having a loving God who wants to guide us in every step we take. Seeking God's will in decision making is not only wise but also a beautiful way to deepen our relationship with Him and grow in faith. Here are 15 ways, with biblical examples, to seek God's will in decision making:

1 Pray fervently: Prayer is our direct line of communication with God. Just as Jesus prayed in the Garden of Gethsemane when faced with the decision to go to the cross (Luke 22:42), we too should seek God's guidance through prayer.

2 Study the Word: The Bible is a treasure trove of wisdom and guidance. Meditate on scriptures like Proverbs 3:5-6, which reminds us to trust in the Lord with all our hearts and lean not on our own understanding.

3 Seek godly counsel: Surround yourself with wise and spiritually mature individuals who can offer godly advice. In the book of Acts, Paul sought counsel from the apostles and elders (Acts 15:1-2), and their wisdom helped him make important decisions.

4 Observe the fruit: Pay attention to the fruit that a decision might bear. Galatians 5:22-23 teaches us about the fruit of the Spirit, which includes love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. Seek decisions that align with these attributes.

5 Listen to the Holy Spirit: The Holy Spirit dwells within every believer and guides us in all truth (John 16:13). Take time to listen to His still small voice and promptings as you seek God's will.

6 Surrender your desires: Sometimes, our desires can cloud our judgment. Surrender your own will to God's perfect plan, just as Jesus did in the garden (Luke 22:42), and trust that He knows what is best for you.

7 Fast: Fasting helps us set aside our physical desires and focus on spiritual matters. In Matthew 4:2, Jesus fasted for forty days and nights, relying solely on God's strength and guidance.

8 Test your decisions against Scripture: Ensure that your choices align with biblical principles. Psalms 119:105 reminds us that God's word is a lamp unto our feet and a light unto our path.

9 Seek unity: If your decision affects others, seek unity and consensus among those involved. In Acts 15, the apostles came together to make decisions that would impact the early church.

? Wait on God's timing: Sometimes, God's will may not align with our desired timeline. Trust in His perfect timing, as exemplified by Abraham and Sarah waiting for the birth of their promised son, Isaac.

11 Recognize open and closed doors: God often opens and closes doors to guide us along the right path. Acts 16:6-10 recounts the Holy Spirit closing certain doors for Paul, leading him to a new place of ministry.

12 Be sensitive to God's peace: Colossians 3:15 encourages us to let the peace of Christ rule in our hearts. If a decision brings peace and tranquility, it is likely in alignment with God's will.

13 Trust in God's providence: God's providence is His divine guidance and provision in our lives. Trust that He will provide for your needs as you step out in faith and make decisions according to His will.

14 Seek confirmation: Just as Gideon sought confirmation from God through signs (Judges 6:36-40), ask God for confirmation if you are uncertain about a decision. He is faithful to provide clarity.

15 Be patient: Lastly, be patient as you seek God's will. Trust that He is working behind the scenes, and in due time, He will reveal His perfect plan for your life.

May these 15 ways to seek God's will in decision making inspire and guide you on your spiritual journey. Remember, God is always with you, leading and directing your steps. Trust in Him, love Him, love one another, and may His abundant blessings be upon you. ??