The Call to Discipleship: Following Jesus' Example of Servanthood

? Introduction: Discipleship is not just a choice; it is a call from Jesus Himself. When Jesus walked on this earth, He didn't just preach; He lived a life of servanthood. In the Bible, we find numerous examples of Jesus' humble and selfless acts, which demonstrate His heart for serving others. As followers of Christ, we are called to imitate His example and let His teachings guide our lives. In this article, we will explore the call to discipleship and how we can follow Jesus' example of servanthood.

? Point 1: Jesus' call to discipleship is found in Matthew 4:19, where He says, "Come, follow me, and I will make you fishers of men." This invitation is extended to everyone, regardless of their background or past mistakes.

? Point 2: Jesus exemplified servanthood by washing His disciples' feet. In John 13:15, He says, "I have set you an example that you should do as I have done for you."

? Point 3: Jesus taught that the greatest in His kingdom is the one who serves others. In Matthew 20:26-28, Jesus says, "Whoever wants to be great among you must be your servant."

? Point 4: Jesus showed compassion towards the sick and the oppressed. In Matthew 14:14, it is written, "When Jesus landed and saw a large crowd, he had compassion on them and healed their sick."

? Point 5: Jesus' ultimate act of servanthood was laying down His life for us. In John 15:13, Jesus declares, "Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one's life for one's friends."

? Point 6: Jesus taught that serving others is equivalent to serving Him. Matthew 25:40 states, "Truly I tell you, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me."

? Point 7: Jesus called His disciples to deny themselves, take up their cross, and follow Him (Matthew 16:24). This means putting aside our own desires and submitting to God's will.

? Point 8: Jesus emphasized the importance of humility. In Matthew 23:11-12, Jesus says, "The greatest among you will be your servant. For those who exalt themselves will be humbled, and those who humble themselves will be exalted."

? Point 9: Jesus taught that serving others should be done with a pure and selfless heart. In Mark 9:35, Jesus says, "Anyone who wants to be first must be the very last, and the servant of all."

? Point 10: Jesus' disciples were not exempt from serving others. In Acts 6:2-4, the apostles appointed deacons to serve the needs of the community, allowing them to focus on the ministry of prayer and preaching.

? Point 11: Jesus taught that servanthood is not limited to physical acts but also extends to forgiveness and reconciliation. In Matthew 18:21-22, Jesus instructs us to forgive others seventy times seven times.

? Point 12: Serving others should be done out of love and not for personal gain or recognition. Jesus teaches in Matthew 6:1-4, "Be careful not to practice your righteousness in front of others to be seen by them."

? Point 13: As disciples of Jesus, we are called to love one another just as He has loved us. John 13:34-35 states, "A new command I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another."

? Point 14: Following Jesus' example of servanthood requires a daily surrender of our will to God. It involves seeking His guidance, praying, and studying His Word to know how best to serve others.

? Point 15: In conclusion, let us remember that being a disciple of Jesus means embracing servanthood. By following His example, we can impact the world around us and bring glory to God. Let us love God, believe in Him, love one another, trust Him implicitly, and serve others with joy. May God bless you abundantly as you embark on this journey of discipleship.

? May your heart be filled with the joy of serving others and imitating the selfless love of Jesus. May you always find strength and guidance in His teachings, and may your life be a reflection of His grace and compassion. Go forth and shine your light, for you are called to be a disciple of Christ! ?
