Mary's Perpetual Virginity: A Sign of God's Presence

In the Christian faith, the Virgin Mary holds a special place of reverence and admiration. She is known as the Mother of God, the woman chosen by God to give birth to His Son, Jesus Christ. However, it is not only her role as a mother that sets her apart, but also her perpetual virginity. Mary, unlike any other woman in history, remained a virgin before, during, and after the birth of Jesus. This unique aspect of her life is not only a testament to her purity and holiness, but also a sign of God's abiding presence in her life.

What is your opinion on the perpetual virginity of Mary? How does it impact your understanding of her role in salvation history?
