3 Let us look to our history for inspiration. As Kwame Nkrumah, the first President of Ghana, once said, "We face neither East nor West. We face forward." These wise words remind us that our future lies in unity and collaboration. ?

7 Let us not forget the power of digital innovation. In today's interconnected world, e-commerce has the potential to revolutionize our trade practices. By embracing technology and creating online platforms, we can reach a wider market and increase trade volumes. ???

8 Imagine a future where African-made products are sought after worldwide. We have the natural resources, the talent, and the entrepreneurial spirit. Now, it is time to unleash our potential and showcase the excellence of African craftsmanship. ??
